Mini-Bio

Dr. Kelsie Endicott is the Coordinator of the Graduate Writing Center at University of Maryland Eastern Shore. She earned her Ed.D. in Contemporary Curriculum Theory and Instruction: Literacy from Salisbury University, her MFA in Creative Writing and Publishing from the University of Baltimore, and her BFA in Creative Writing from the University of North Carolina Wilmington. Professionally, she has worked in higher education across institutions as a writing consultant for almost fifteen years and as an English composition instructor for three years. She loves working with writers and her academic and professional experiences inform her writer-centered approach to writing instruction.
