

Saswati Sen

Adjunct Lecturer

ssen@umes.edu

Degree(s)/Certificates

- B.A. Calcutta University. India
- M.A. Calcutta University. India

Areas of Expertise

- Greek & Latin Literature
- Romantic & Post-Modern Poetry
- Drama (Shakespeare & Post-Modern)

Mini-Bio

Education: B.A. (English Literature) Calcutta University, India (2000)

M.A (English Literature) Calcutta University, India (2002)

I am interested in Victorian poetry and poetics, theater, writing, and literary criticism. I specialize in Ancient Greek & Latin literature, Post-modern drama, 19th and 20th-century poetry, and English novel. My most recent book, Between the Wolf and the Woman (2024), tracks the wild woman archetype in real world and lores. My first book, To Love and Other Insanities, (2023) explores other eccentric, beautiful things that people associate with love. I am currently at work on two further books, a psychological thriller with traits of magic realism and a volume of occasional verse. As a teacher of Composition, Speech and Theater, I am committed to ensuring that undergraduates - in particular - have every opportunity to develop their abilities in the written word, the spoken word, and the art of performance, in a disciplined manner.

Publications, screenings, exhibitions, public works, etc.

- Between the Wolf and the Woman (A volume of poetry)(2024)
- Love and Other Insanities (A volume of poetry)(2023)
- Baba and Other Superheroes (An article)(2023)
- Nostalgia (An article)(2020)