WHY CHOOSE US

UMES's Graduate School is the only doctoral degree granting research institution on the Eastern Shore of Maryland as well as the 1890 Land Grant Institution. UMES believes that it can best serve societal needs and respond to the challenges of graduate education through its commitment to time-honored principles. Accordingly, the major role of the UMES Graduate School is to provide for the education of students in the scholarly methods of intellectual inquiry and critical analysis; to train them in the discipline and skill necessary for beneficial research, applications and practice; and to foster in them a dedication to creative thought and the search for knowledge. The UMES Graduate School promotes the freedom and intellectual environment necessary to stimulate research and scholarship of the highest quality for both students and faculty.

*Let us provide you with quality education
