

DANIEL AND LORETTA SAVOY

Daniel and Loretta Savoy are proud UMES alumni and longtime supporters of their alma mater. Daniel, a 1967 graduate in agriculture, and Loretta, a 1974 graduate in home economics, each built successful careers in education and public service while remaining deeply connected to UMES. In 2010, they established the Savoy Fund for Human Ecology, creating scholarship opportunities for students in child development, nutrition, and related fields.

As dedicated members of the UMES President's Club, the Savoy's have consistently given back through annual gifts, pledges, and scholarship support. Their generosity and loyalty as alumni reflect their belief in UMES's mission and their desire to ensure future generations of students have the same opportunities that helped shape their own lives.
