Campus Safety

The safety of the University of Maryland Eastern Shore community during an emergency is predicated on advance planning, as well as building awareness about how the plans will be implemented. Students, faculty, staff and visitors will be better prepared in an emergency if they know how the University will respond, where they can find information, and what they should do.

Key to that awareness is good communication. The UMES Department of Public Safety website is an essential tool for sharing plans and providing relevant information in case an emergency arises at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore or in the surrounding area.

Emergency Telephone "Blue Lights"

The Campus Police Department also monitors the University's Emergency Blue Light System to facilitate reporting of emergencies. The Blue Light System is an interactive voice communications system, which when activated, automatically relays the geographical location of the caller to the University Police Department Communication Center. There are 11 emergency stations, identified by blue lights, strategically located throughout the campus. Should any member of the University Community have a need to use this emergency system, the below directions are prominently displayed on each communication box.

- Push the red button on the phone box and release.
- Listen for a Public Safety Officer, who will ask what the situation is.
- Push and hold the black button while explaining the situation.
- Follow the instructions given.
